High Interest Sports Books written at two different levels.

*NOTE: ALL titles from Scobre Press are available to purchase as a single copy. If you would like to order single copies, please see the back of the catalog for individual prices. If you have any questions or if you would like Scott and Bretton to put the order together for you, please let us know and we will be happy to help. Scobre will also help you build your own customized set.

2008-2009 DREAM SERIES:

High interest literature for reluctant readers. The same book is available in two different levels. The “Home Run Edition” books are the lower level books, written at a 3rd to a 4th grade reading level (N-Q) and the “Touchdown Edition” is the upper level books, written at a 5th-7th grade reading level (T-Y). Each book focuses on issues that the characters have and overcome. Some character issues may be perseverance, environmental awareness, self-confidence, choices, family, setting goals, anger management, bullying, and many others. All these character issues are well written through high interest books, most of which are sports related. Boys and girls both love these books because they contain traditional sports as well as books similar to Dancing with the Stars, American Idol and many others. The main idea and goal of Scobre Press Books is to get the students reading. Once they learn to read and understand things they love, in an easy format, they can move on to read and understand other books such as The Scarlet Letter and other important books that students will eventually need to read.
